

Landscapers and Snow Plow Operators

A stormy summer hurts business, but a stormy winter means big $$$

- Emailed Storm Alerts. Are you frustrated by bad forecasts that cost you money? Do you really have time to sit on the internet and watch radar all day? We have the solution.

You'll get weather updates delivered directly to your inbox before rain or snow develops, and updates as needed during the storm. If rain is about to interrupt your lawn care, you'll know. If snow is going to be deep enough for plowing, you'll know. We will always alert you to large storms expected in the weeks ahead so you can prepare now! Is that the kind of information you need?

- Talk with a real meteorologist! How many times have you been out on a job and wished you could get a personal forecast update for your work day? You're hearing thunder or seeing a darkening sky...is rain about to wash out your work or are you safe? You're plowing and salting and the snow seems to be letting up...is it ending, or is that just a break in the storm? Find out from your own meteorologist with a simple phone call...

- Weather data for you and your clients. After the storm, get a report on how much snow or rain fell in the area. Your client claims there was only an inch of snow, but you know you plowed 3 to 4 inches. We'll verify the data so you can bill your clients more accurately, and we'll provide graphics you can show them! If localized rainfall washed out your work day but your client saw nothing but sunshine in his/her area, we can show you where the rain fell and how long it lasted.

Rich Apuzzo, Meteorologist
Skyeye Weather LLC
513-232-7246

Rich@skyeeyeweather.com

www.Skyeyeweather.com

